Difficulties within the Central Committee of the Yugoslav Comm. Party
(Information dated 28 August 1952)

The difficulties (instability) within the Central Committee of the Yugoslav Communist Party - which outlines the internal and the foreign policies of Yugoslavia - are increasing this year. Tito and Kidric consider as "realists" those who do not care too much for the global policies (aims) of Communism. [ ] It seems that Tito and Kidric are such "realists.").

50X1-HUM

On the other hand, it is the Colonel General Ivan Gošnjak, the Assistant Minister of War and Tito's substitute, who is especially unwilling to support too much the Western Powers. Aided by high officers who share his point of view, he succeeds to hide many things from the military missions of the Western Powers. [ ]

50X1-HUM

The Minister of Foreign Affairs Kardelj wants also to protect Communism.

50X1-HUM

He tries even to avoid visiting Austria [ ]

[ ] Gruber has visited

Yugoslavia) However, as long as Kardelj enjoys the personal friendship of the Central Committee members, he will be able to cope with any kind of forthcoming difficulties.
